Late Highwall Miner for Sale

Professional Highwall Mining Services, LLC was formed in 2013 and the company has seen steady growth. The 18,000 sq. ft. plant company is located at 855 Ragland Road in Beckley, WV about two miles from the old Superior facility.

The company services a total of 16 highwall miners from of a total of 40 machines working in the US and the number keeps growing. These machines are in Alabama, West Virginia and Kentucky, and the company also does business in Colombia, India and Russia.

Professional Highwall also contracts for the GPS on all the machines, so visits take place to all these job sites every week where the operators produce from 60,000-80,000 tons a month. Advances in machine design include better PLCs and stronger push-beams that allow a greater pull force.

Jim Argabrite, owner and President sees a steady pick up in the coal market with companies talking about expanding quickly for the met market. "We've seen a steady pick up here in the last two weeks and a lot of companies are talking about expanding quickly to capitalize on the met market. In the highwall mining industry I'm extremely confident that Professional Highwall is going to be here for a long time contributing to our great mining industry."
